HAM BAM, THANK YOU MA'AM!

Ahh it's that wonderful time of year again. Spending time with family, eating too much, indulging in rich foods, drinks and sweets, and just having a merry old time.

You've pre-ordered a full leg of ham from the local Shire butcher, but then you win a haul of hams at Bundeena CSC's massive Christmas ham raffle on Saturday 17 December. Ham overload! With the increased cost of living, you don't want to waste any food of course.

But don't worry! I have a few ideas that will help you not waste delicious hams while also keeping your family fed throughout the holiday season.

First off do not panic. Ham freezes beautifully! It's best to use the ham within one or two months of being in the freezer to reduce the chance of freezer burn or ice forming around the edges. Here are a few tips I use to prolong the life of it in the freezer.

#1 Make sure your ham is cool and completely dry using a clean dry chux or kitchen towel. Slice, dice or portion your ham for efficient storage purposes and to use when defrosted.

#2 Make sure that you wrap your ham up nice and tight to reduce any air being trapped. I like to use cling wrap and then a ziplock or sealable food bag and then I push the air out creating a vacuum seal.

After this, I wrap it in aluminium foil nice and tight to keep your treasured ham delight nice and safe. If you cut it in different styles such as diced and sliced, be sure to label and date each wrap so you don't get in a ham puzzle mix up!

#3 When you are ready to use your ham, remove from the freezer and thaw in the refrigerator overnight. Remember to always use it within three days and do not refreeze it.

If you've pre-sliced your ham, eat it as part of some sandwiches, the classic but oh so delightful cheese, tomato and ham toasties, picky antipasto plates or my personal favourite – a midnight snack straight from the fridge!

For diced ham, you can make your own pizzas, chicken parmies, quiches, or even a decadent mac and cheese bake with some ham tossed through. Talk about yum!

Back at home in England, one of my favourite old English dishes was gammon egg and chips. You can create this yourself by slicing a nice thick steak-sized piece of ham, then grilling it on the BBQ for a few minutes. Serve with a nice runny fried egg and some crispy hot chips for the perfect easy summer dinner! You can even add some grilled pineapple for a sweet finish – how hamtastic!

privacy policy

Cabra Bowls Group is subject to the provisions of the Privacy Act 1988. See over for full details.

From the 12th March 2014, the Australian Privacy Principles (APPs) replaced the then existing Privacy and Information Principles. Cabramatta Bowling and Recreation Club Limited (Cabra Bowls Group) is committed to protecting the privacy and personal information of all members, guests, visitors and employees within the Group.

The club only uses information for the purpose for which it was collected for example entry into the club. The club does not usually disclose your personal information to any other organisation or person unless there is a legal requirement to do so or unless the club reasonably believes the information is required due to threat to life, health and safety or unlawful activity and is requested by relevant persons or authorities as part of an investigation. The club may disclose your information to third parties that provide services under contract to the club. These contracts require the third party to keep your personal information confidential and secure. Your personal information may be used by the club for marketing purposes such as providing you with the latest information on club activities, promotions and products and services. Upon request to the club your name will be removed from the mailing list if you do not wish to receive such information.

Keeping Information Secure

All personal information gathered is protected. Electronic records are kept on club premises or off site using trusted third parties. Security safeguards include computer firewalls, viruses scanning, intrusion detection systems and limited password access. Staff are trained and reminded of their obligations and club buildings have alarms, cameras and guard surveillance as required. Data is destroyed as soon as possible with a balance being internal needs and the legal requirements in terms of the third parties who operate or hold data outside of Australia.

Access of Information & Correction of Information

Change of names must be supported by legal documentation for example marriage certificate, change of name certificate. Change of addresses can be made in person, by letter or by email. You have the right to access any personal information that the club holds about you and a right of correction to your information. Requests can be addressed to info@cabrabowls.com.au, by telephone 02 9728 4344, or write to Cabramatta Bowling Club 82 Longfield Street Cabramatta NSW 2166. Responses to queries or requests will be made within 14 working days. The club will generally not charge a fee for you to access your personal information.

If you have a concern about your privacy you have a right to make a complaint and every effort possible will be made by the club to address those concerns. To lodge a complaint, please contact any of the venues within the Group and your complaint will be logged and full complaint resolution procedures sent to you. A club representative will contact you within seven days and then keep you informed of the progress of the complaint resolution. If the complaint is unresolved within 30 days, you will be contacted, and agreement reached on an extended period.

If you are not satisfied with the handling of the matter, we suggest after following the complaints procedure, complaints about handling personal information can also be directed to the Office of the Australian Information Commissioner by phone 1300 363 992 or www.oaic.gov.au or GPO Box 5218 SYDNEY NSW 2001.
